

Contents

	Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	A Certain Lightness in Existence	xi
Chapter I	On the Joys and Travails of Thinking	1
Chapter II	Books and the Intellectual Life	9
Chapter III	Artes Liberales —The Liberal Arts	25
Chapter IV	On Taking Care of One's Own Wisdom	47
Chapter V	On the Consolations of Illiteracy, Revisited	65
Chapter VI	On Knowing Nothing of Intellectual Delights	83
Chapter VII	The Metaphysics of Walking	99

Chapter VIII	Beyond Description: On the Most Wonderful Book	117
Chapter IX	The Whole Risk for a Human Being	131
Chapter X	On the Things that Depend upon Philosophy	147
Conclusion	The Things the Mind Did Not Make	165
Appendix I	Schall's Twenty Books That Awaken the Mind	171
Appendix II	Lopez Interview with Schall on Education and Knowledge	173
Appendix III	Reading for Clerics	183
	Notes	199
	Bibliography	207
	Index	217

