

The Chesterton Review

Eric Gill woodcut
Christmas cards
with a poem by
G. K. Chesterton:
“The Wise Men”

*We are the three wise men of yore,
And we know all things but the truth.*

*Go humbly ... it has hailed and snowed ...
With voices low and lanterns lit;
So very simple is the road,
That we may stray from it.*

*The world grows terrible and white,
And blinding white the breaking day;
We walk bewildered in the light,
For something is too large for sight,
And something much too plain to say.*

*The Child that was ere worlds begun
(... We need but walk a little way,
We need but see a latch undone ...)
Child that played with moon and sun
Laying with a little hay.*
